2017-APHIS-06116-F	Miller, Torin	National Deer Alliance	8/16/2017	9/14/2017	My name is Torin Miller, and I'm a Government Affairs Intern with the National Deer Alliance. We're doing some research in cooperation with some other similarly-minded groups regarding funding for depopulation as it regards to deer farms and herds infected with Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD). In otherwords, when a deer farm is determined to have one or multiple individuals with CWD, the individuals on the farm are euthanized, or indemnified, with the assistance of federal funds. Although APHIS and the Cervid Health Team makes it known the yearly budget for indemnification as well as depopulation incidences, we would like more specific information on specifically how much government money is spent on indemnification and where exactly those funds are being spent. What is the exact amount paid for a specific incidence? How many individuals were euthanized during that incidence? We would like this information for year 2000 to present, if possible.	9/1/2017

2017-APHIS-06006-F	Koltun, Andy	-	8/9/2017	9/7/2017	I am a graduate student researcher at the University of North Carolina. I work on a research project adapting pathogen detection methods to environmental and veterinary samples. We are looking to include wastewater from live birds markets in our sampling efforts, but we have had difficulty locating such markets. Noting USDA-APHIS' monitoring of these facilities, I would like to request the business addresses and phone number of all licensed/registered live bird markets in Virginia, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. I would prefer a digital copy of this information, sent to my email address.	-
