Introduction

This appendix is a quick guide to regulating animal product importations in passenger baggage or in mail. If a country is not listed, consider the country affected with all diseases. Directions for regulating animal product importations are detailed in the Procedures section of this manual. The Reference section describes entry requirements in detail. Use the Reference section for commercial importations and for all dairy products. Never use Appendix A for commercial importations.

For a product in passenger baggage, if the commercially-prepared label cannot be easily translated, or the product information cannot be determined through passenger interview, then the product must be refused entry.

Warning About Hand Carrying Biological Agents

Veterinary Services prohibits the hand carrying of certain biological agents such as those moving in contradiction¹ of the permit. Therefore, follow these directions in handling such hand-carried biological agents:

1. REVIEW the accompanying VS Form 16-6A, Import Permit.
2. CHECK if the agent is moving in contradiction¹ of the permit.
3. If the biological agent is moving in contradiction of the permit, then CONFISCATE the biological agent, and contact the National Center for Import and Export at 301/851-3300, for directions on proper storage, transport, and destruction of the materials.

1 For example, the VS Form 16-6A, Import Permit, specifies that "imported materials must be shipped by a commercial carrier," yet the biological agent is being hand carried. The biological agent would be moving in contradiction of the permit.

Handling Passengers That Are In Transit

In-transit passengers are travelers who are immediately passing through the United States on their way to another country. In general, such passengers are low risk for introducing animal diseases; however, if there is a risk of introducing disease, then do not allow articles to transit. Use Table A-1-1 to determine your action.

TABLE A-1-1 Determine Action to Take with Transiting Passengers' Meat, Meat Products, Animal Products, and Animal By-Products

If the passenger in transit has:	And the meat, meat product, or by-product is:	And is in the passenger's:	Then:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ◆ Animal product ◆ Animal by-product ◆ Meat ◆ Meat product 	Ineligible for entry	Baggage checked through to destination	ALLOW transit
		Carry-on baggage	REFUSE to allow transit
	Eligible for entry	→	ALLOW transit

Importations of Shelf-Stable Meat Cooked in the Container

Cooked, shelf-stable meat¹ is a condition that applies a high temperature which renders the meat or meat product shelf stable.

The following process must take place to render meat cooked, shelf stable:

1. Pack the meat or meat product in a rigid or semi-rigid container (glass, metal, or plastic), or a flexible pouch (foil or plastic).
2. Completely seal the container against the escape or entry of air (hermetically seal).
3. Cook the meat.

If you doubt the shelf stability of the product, then require appropriate certification for the product, based on the requirements published in this manual. Otherwise, refuse entry. If the discrimination of shelf stability is questionable and the product is frequently encountered, then contact PPQ, VRS for direction.

Use Table A-1-2 below to determine the action to take for importations of cooked, shelf-stable meat.

¹ If you cannot determine the animal class, then REFUSE ENTRY. If other than canned, shelf-stable meat, then see the Matrix on page A-1-19.

- 2 In regionalized countries, only VS-defined areas are considered to be affected with HPAI. Currently there are no regionalized countries for HPAI. Contact your local PPQ-VRS-AQI Veterinarian or a PPQ-VRS-HQ Staff Veterinarian for current information on VS-defined areas for regionalized countries.
- 3 Currently Canada is the only country designated at minimal risk for BSE.
- 4 For a product in passenger baggage, if the commercially-prepared label cannot be easily translated, or the product information cannot be determined through passenger interview, then the product must be refused entry.

Interception of Parma Ham in Passenger Baggage

If a Parma ham is offered for importation in passenger's baggage with the required certification, you must inspect the ham. Ensure that the ham has both a hot brand or an ink seal showing the identifying plant number of the slaughtering establishment, and a button seal on the hock that shows the date and year the ham entered the processing establishment.

Importations of Bouillon Cubes or Granules and Dry Soup Mixes

Use Table A-1-3 for importations of bouillon cubes or granules and dry soup mixes arriving in passenger baggage or the mail. Dry soup mixes are dehydrated soup mixes containing meat. Some mixes contain rice or pasta; some are just a powder mixture. All mixes must be commercially prepared. Directions for preparing the soup must only be the adding of hot water or adding water followed by a microwave treatment.

EXAMPLE The directions may say to empty the contents of one envelope into a mug or large cup, add boiling water, etc.

The directions must not include cooking. The meat may be in a powder form or in dried pieces the size of bouillon cubes or silver dollars. Ingredients may all be in one package or envelope, or may be in a bowl or cup with some of the ingredients in separate envelopes within the bowl or cup.

The purpose for allowing a reasonable amount of soup mixes (as per requirements in Table A-1-3) for personal consumption while traveling is to deter individuals from importing commercial quantities for resale. Be aware that for a family of two coming into the United States for several weeks to have a case of 50 soup mixes for their daily consumption would be reasonable.

- 3 The strongest confirmation is documentation (labeling, commercial name, receipts, and your own expertise). Do not necessarily take an individual's word for the origin of the product.
- 4 Currently Canada is the only country designated at minimal risk for BSE.

Importations of Milk and Other Dairy Products in Passenger Baggage

The majority of milk and dairy products from FMD-free countries are restricted, and therefore must be accompanied by proof of origin (package label, written documentation, proof of travel (passport or travel itinerary), origin of flight, receipt of sale, CBP document (based on the officer’s interview of the traveler), or a certificate). If it is determined the milk or dairy product is from an FMD-free country, it can be released.

Milk and dairy products from FMD-S/R regions are regulated the same as milk and dairy products from FMD-free countries, as FMD S/R applies only to meat and meat products.

The majority of milk products from FMD-affected countries are prohibited; however, there are some exceptions, as follows:

- ◆ Liquid milk and milk products intended for use by infants or very young children are admissible if in a reasonable or small quantity for several days’ use. These products can be released.
- ◆ Products containing powdered or dry milk that are obviously for human use (soup mixes, drink mixes, baking mixes, baby/infant formula, and similar products) that are in small quantity and prepackaged, labeled in individual serving packages, normal retail-size packages, or packed for distribution in institutional sizes. These products can be released.

For all other milk and dairy products, regulate the shipment as a commercial entry. See Milk and Milk Products on page 3-14-1.

Pork Skins or Rinds (Chicharrones)

Cooked pork skins or rinds (called chicharrones in Spanish) in passenger baggage from other than regions affected with ASF, CSF, FMD, or SVD, are admissible if, upon inspection, you determine that the cooked pork skins have been thoroughly cooked. The pork skins or rinds must be crisp. They should crumble easily when bent.

Abbreviations within parentheses indicate Dependent States and the country of their dependence.

EXAMPLE The entry for Bonaire a Dependent State of The Netherlands is Bonaire (Netherlands).

Disease status is known to be present in the region or country.

- 1 USDA, APHIS regulations allow for the unrestricted entry of fully taxidermy finished trophies. Fully taxidermy finished trophies are those trophies that have been professionally cleaned (free of dirt, blood, insects, putrid odors, etc.) and processed. Fully taxidermy finished trophies have been professionally prepared (may be stuffed and/or mounted) for the purpose of personal exhibition.
- 2 A copy of the importer's hunting license/permit or other documentation that clearly demonstrates lawful possession of the trophy from Canada. The license/permit or other documentation must be issued by the Canadian government (at the Provincial, Tribal or CFIA level), and not by the outfitter. This document should identify the animal species and, if applicable, indicate the quantity of animals allowed to be hunted. USDA limits the quantity of Canadian origin, non-cervid ruminant bone trophies allowed to be imported to those taken from 2 animals unless a greater quantity is authorized by the hunting license/permit or other documentation as indicated above. Bone trophies that do not meet the above conditions will be regulated in the Bones and Related By-Products on page 3-4-1 Section as a shipment of commercial bones.
- 3 If a party of three hunters has a total of horns or skulls that matches the number allowed on the hunter's combined licenses, then these horns or skulls are authorized entry. (For example, if the number allowed on each license is two, then a combined total of six horns or skulls may be authorized entry for the three hunters.) However, if the total number of horns and skulls exceeds the number allowed on the hunter's combined licenses, then prohibit entry to the excess amount. If the hunters will not volunteer which hunter has the extra skull(s), then prohibit entry on the entire shipment. A VS special permit is no longer required.
- 4 USDA defines trophies as, the bones (including skulls, antlers, teeth, horns, and hoofs) of an animal carcass that can be used as a remembrance or souvenir of "the hunt" that are for personal use only. A copy of the importer's hunting license/permit, or other documentation that clearly demonstrates lawful possession of the trophy from the country of origin must be issued by the foreign government (at the Federal, Regional, or Department level), not by the outfitter. This documentation must be in English or must be accompanied by a government endorsed English translation. This documentation should identify the animal species and, if applicable, indicate the quantity of animals allowed to be hunted. USDA limits the quantity of bone trophies allowed to be imported to those taken from 2 animals unless a greater quantity is authorized by the hunting license/permit or other documentation as indicated above. Bone trophies that do not meet the above conditions will be regulated in the Bones and Related By-Products on page 3-4-1 Section as a shipment of commercial bones.
- 5 USDA regulates antlers and other bony trophies for other diseases, such as anthrax.
- 6 The cape is the pelt from the head, neck, and forepart of the shoulders of the animal used for mounting as a trophy.
- 7 USDA has not imposed any restrictions on cervid trophies from Canada because of BSE. Hunters may import cervid trophies that were hunted in Canada without restriction. Hunters should have documentation that demonstrates proof of Canadian origin for their cervid trophies (i.e. Canadian hunting license/permit [Provincial, Tribal, or CFIA issued]. Game Farm receipt, Outfitter receipt, or other documentation provided by the Game farm or Outfitter, etc.).
