

Pet Food Containing Dried Fruits and Vegetables (in addition to animal origin ingredients)

Pet food is entirely under the Korean import authority of NVRQS. NPQS (National Plant Quarantine Service) does not require separate certification for pet food containing both animal origin materials and other items.

Please see “Pet food (including fish food and nutritional supplements) containing animal origin ingredients” for information on the required certification for these products. The processing requirements discussed on the there-mentioned export certificates apply to the animal origin components of the pet food only.