

Avian Influenza Bans

Turkey currently prohibits the import of poultry products from the States of Arkansas and Idaho.

The prohibition is believed to exempt some heat-treated products. However, special certifications regarding processing may be required.

NOTE- For information on the export of pet food, go back to the previous page and select “pet food”. For information on the export of egg products, go back to the previous page and select “egg products”.