

Chapter XXX – Guidelines for Fallowing in Aquaculture

General Comment: Overall, we have no further comments on this proposed Chapter; however, it should be recognized that a facility that is properly sanitized and has a specific-pathogen-free (SPF) water supply should be able to re-commence operation immediately without a fallowing period. This or a similar statement might be added to the fallowing section for clarification.