

Curriculum Vitae

Maria PITTMAN

Maria Pittman (DVCM) graduated from Veterinary Medicine University in Vienna, Austria, in 1989.

After work in private veterinary practice and as an official veterinarian in the regional Austrian government, she joined the European Commission in 1999 where she is responsible for poultry disease control, trade and imports of poultry.

During that time she was also working for a two years term in the European Food Safety Authority (EFSA), Parma, Italy.