

Our mascot needs a name!

One that will reflect his strength and commitment and draw attention to his good work.

Name the Healthy Bird Contest

Hello, my name is: _____

Our Biosecurity For Birds mascot is proud, loud, and a hero to his feathered friends. His job is to be vigilant and help insure that all birds are protected from infectious diseases like avian influenza (bird flu). That's why he's holding up a spyglass and looking out for other birds. He'll raise a squawk if he sees practices that might spread disease, but he needs a name.

Enter today! Enter your name suggestions (maximum of three per person) online at <http://healthybirds.aphis.usda.gov/>

Entries should accurately reflect the subject matter and personality of the Biosecurity For Birds logo character.

All entries will be credited with the person's name.

Deadline: The deadline for submitting entries is September 30, 2010.

Three finalists will be chosen in October. Finalists will each win a Biosecurity For Birds duffle bag. The winner will receive a grand prize.

The winner will be notified by e-mail the last week in October and announced during Bird Health Awareness Week, November 1-7, 2010.

USDA/APHIS reserves the right to cancel, terminate, modify or suspend the Name the Healthy Bird contest at any time.
