

Product Monitoring Strategies

- Post-marketing surveillance activities will be transparent and accountable.
- External review and advice are essential for consistency with accepted standards.
- Techniques will be grounded on accepted principles of causal inference, statistical methodology, and risk assessment.