EXEMPTIONS TO QUESTION 3

AMENDMENT TO PROTOCOL 09-206-04

Our IACUC approved a USDA space exemption for 12 sows and 144 piglets/year in order to carry out the approved protocol. Since the piglets undergo 24 hour monitoring of behavior and cardiorespiratory functions the use of a farm farrowing crate is used to keep piglets within the range of receivers and cameras. The farrowing crate is the only mechanism by which state-of-the-art monitoring is carried out with minimum loss of piglets. The sows were housed in farrowing crates for a maximum of four weeks and the piglets were housed this way for a maximum of six weeks. A 30 minute period out of the farrowing crate was provided for both the sow and piglets to exercise daily.
