ASSURANCE STATEMENTS

- 1) Professionally acceptable standards governing the care, treatment, and use of animals, including appropriate use of anesthetic, analgesic, and tranquilizing drugs, prior to, during, and following actual research, teaching, testing, surgery, or experimentation were followed by this research facility.
- 2) Each principal investigator has considered alternatives to painful procedures.
- 3) This facility is adhering to the standards and regulations under the Act, and it has required that exceptions to the standards and regulations be specified and explained by the principal investigator and approved by the Institutional Animal Care and Use Committee (IACUC). A summary of all the exceptions is attached to this annual report. In addition to identifying the IACUC-approved exceptions, this summary includes a brief explanation of the exceptions, as well as the species and number of animals affected.
- 4) The attending veterinarian for this research facility has appropriate authority to ensure the provision of adequate veterinary care and to oversee the adequacy of other aspects of animal care and use.

APHIS Form 7023 Column E Explanation

This form is intended as an aid to completing the APHIS Form 7023 Column E explanation. It is not an official form and its use is voluntary. Names, addresses, protocols, veterinary care programs, and the like, are not required as part of an explanation. A Column E explanation must be written so as to be understood by lay persons as well as scientists.

1. Registration Number: 21-R-0043

2/3. Species (common name) & Number of animals used in this study:

Chinchilla (95)

4. Explain the procedure producing pain and/or distress.

During acute noise exposures, each animal is completely restrained in a specially designed holder (Hargett, 1986) to prevent head and body movement which ensures the correct angle of incidence of the acoustic wave front to the animal's ear canal. The maximum duration of restraint for each animal in the acute exposures is less than two hours. Animals are not restrained during chronic exposures (6 to 24 hours per day) and are housed in standard animal cages (12.5 W x 16 L x 12.5 H) within the exposure room with food and water freely available.

5. Provide scientific justification why pain and/or distress could not be relieved. State methods or means used to determine that pain and/or distress relief would interfere with test results. (For Federally mandated testing, see Item 6 below)

After thorough and continued review, the IACUC states that during the actual experimentation the animals are not administered anesthetic, analgesic, or tranquilizing drugs as such administration would have an adverse affect on the testing procedures immediately following the experimental protocols. The noise exposures are not painful and are less severe than unprotected exposures experienced by military personnel (acute exposures) or by industrial workers (long-term exposures). Furthermore, anesthetic or analgesic agents may significantly alter the response of the middle-ear reflex system to high-level stimulation (Price, 1999).
