Subject Re: FOIA Acknowledgement Letter

Thank you for your prompt response The couple you are checking on have not been honest about the relationship they have with the USDA and the dogs they raise. We just want to know if they raise dogs and broker dogs and if so how long and how many, Also where do they get the puppies they sell? Or do they raise them? I hope you will have all this info for us. I am attending a meeting this weekend with several dog show people that need to have this info if in fact this is what they do. They are currently telling us nothing and wanting to buy a show dog from a top breeder in the country. She needs to know what kind of home this puppy is going into. I leave friday for this meeting and if there is any way I could have this info by then it would be greatly appreciated. I am a very honest person and dont want to say anything about this until I know all the facts, thank you so much Judy
