Operating procedures and responsibilities for position classification are contained in the HRDG. Subchapter 4511.

7. DELEGATED CLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY

a. Delegated position classification authority is used to determine and certify the proper pay plan, title, series, and grade of a position. The Human Resources Specialist with delegated classification authority certifies the classification of a position by signing the Classification Approved section on the Position Description Cover Sheet, AD-332.

b. The Secretary’s Department-wide authority for position classification is delegated by 7 CFR 2.91 (a) (10) to the Director, Office of Human Resources Management (OHRM). This authority is further delegated as follows:

   (1) Mission Area Human Resource Directors.

   (2) The MRP Human Resource Director has delegated classification authority to Human Resources Specialists (Classification) who have completed requisite training.

   (3) This authority may be revoked by OPM or OHRM if it finds that an agency is not placing positions in classes and grades in conformance with published standards, and may require prior approval before a personnel action is effected to place a position in a class and grade for payroll and other personnel purposes. Classification authority may be restored at a later date to the extent that OPM or OHRM is satisfied that later actions are in conformance with published standards.
