

Plant wealth... reap the Financial Harvest

Reduce debt, find money to save • Learn investing basics
• Plan for retirement • Get legal matters in order

Web-based learning tools for all USDA employees to help you plan, act, and achieve financial security are available through AgLearn at www.aglearn.usda.gov. The steps to follow to access these tools are as easy as 1-2-3. First, log in and click once on the Catalog tab. Next, scroll through the list of available subjects and click once on the Personal Financial Education item. Last, click once on the Launch Content button to immediately launch that learning item.

All of these learning tools are available at no cost to USDA employees. They are up-to-date financial education products with no merchandise sales.

www.aglearn.usda.gov

United States Department of Agriculture
USDA is an equal opportunity employer and provider.
April 2006