Overview of Hiring Process
This guide was created to help Marketing and Regulatory Program (MRP) supervisors, managers and selecting officials understand the MRP hiring process and the important role selecting officials have in each phase. The information below describes each step of the hiring process after the hiring manager has identified the need to fill a vacant position.

Hiring Model Overview:
The chart below provides an overview of the steps in the hiring process detailed more thoroughly in this guide. Blue steps are performed by Human Resources (HR).

- Step 1: Conduct Workforce Planning/Position Management Review
- Step 2: Review/Update Position Description (PD) (if necessary)
- Step 3: Participate in a Pre-Recruitment Consultation with HR (confirm assessment strategy and hiring method)
- Step 4: Submit a Request for Personnel Action – ‘Recruit’ (SF-52) when advised to do so by HR
- Step 5: Create Vacancy announcement
- Step 6: Receive applications and review qualifications
- Step 7: Issue certificate containing best qualified applicants
- Step 8: Update applicant status online
- Step 9: Conduct Interviews
- Step 10: Check References
- Step 11: Make selection
- Step 12: Make tentative job offer
- Step 13: Issue and review pre-employment paperwork upon return
- Step 14: Facilitate fingerprinting (as applicable)
- Step 15: Onboard New Employee
Step 1: Conduct Workforce Planning/Position Management Review
Once you (as the hiring manager) identify the need to fill a position, consult your program’s hiring plan. Participate in any program specific approvals/procedures.

Step 2: Review/Update Position Description (PD)
Consult with your classification specialist to identify or develop/revise (if necessary) the PD.

Step 3: Participate in Pre-Recruitment Consultation
Your staffing specialist will contact you to discuss how you would like to fill your position and work with you and/or a subject matter expert (SME) to develop a job analysis. This includes identifying competencies and developing the assessment questions for the vacancy announcement, or using an established evaluation mechanism.

Step 4: Submit Request for Personnel Action (‘Recruit’ SF-52)
When prompted by the staffing specialist, you will need to submit the Recruit SF-52 (Request for Personnel Action) to initiate the hiring process.

Step 5: Create Vacancy Announcement/Receive and Review Applications/Issue Certificate
Based upon information provided by the specialist from the consultation, the staffing assistant creates the Job Opportunity Announcement (JOA) and sends you a courtesy copy of the vacancy announcement. The completed JOA will then be posted to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) USAJOBS website: www.usajobs.gov/

Step 6: Conduct Interviews/Check References/Make Selection
HR will send you a certificate of eligible candidates. You will need to interview candidates, check references, make a selection, and return the certificate to the staffing assistant.

Step 7: Make Tentative Job Offer & Issue Pre-Employment Paperwork
HRO reviews the selection to confirm validity and issues a tentative offer letter. The selectee completes all required pre-employment paperwork as indicated in his or her tentative offer letter. Assuming that all pre-employment requirements are met, the official effective date will be set and a final offer letter issued.

Step 8: Onboard New Employee
On the employee’s first day, the employee should attend a New Employee Orientation (NEO) to receive and complete additional forms. Hard copy NEO forms must be forwarded by the NEO facilitator to the servicing processing assistant in HRO for filing.
STEP 1 – Conduct Workforce Planning/Position Management Review

Workforce planning and position management are essential for an effective, efficient hiring process, which will then result in hiring the right person for the right job in a timely manner. Once you determine the need to fill a position, whether it is new or existing, you will need to engage in your program’s internal approval process to fill your position.

After receiving approval to fill your position, you should consider whether you might fill the position by lateral reassignment. If so, that may mean that there is a different resulting vacancy to be announced later on. If that is not an option, then you should consider noncompetitive hiring authorities.

Noncompetitive Recruitment – There are authorities that can be used as an alternative to posting a competitive announcement. Consider noncompetitive recruitment options before beginning the competitive recruitment process, to avoid duplication of efforts and allow for a more streamlined recruitment strategy.

Peace Corps and AmeriCorps VISTA
Former Peace Corps or AmeriCorps VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) are granted a one-year period to be non-competitively appointed to a competitive service federal position. The hiring agency may extend the non-competitive eligibility period for 2 additional years for a total of 3 years if the individual, after the qualifying service, is in the military service; is studying at a recognized institution of higher learning; or has been involved in another activity which, in the agency's view, warrants an extension.

Upon completing service with the Peace Corps or AmeriCorps VISTA, volunteers or participants are provided a certification of non-competitive eligibility for Federal jobs. Former volunteers indicate their Peace Corps or AmeriCorps VISTA service on their résumé and provide the Description of Service as an attachment. This should be referred to HR to review for eligibility and qualification determination.

Jobs can be posted on the Peace Corps site for collection of applications, but the Career Transition Assistance Program (CTAP) must be cleared by posting notice on USAjobs before a candidate can be hired.

Veterans Hiring and Employment
Veterans' Recruitment Appointment (VRA)
Veterans' Recruitment Appointment (VRA) is an excepted authority that allows agencies, to appoint eligible veterans without competition. The candidate must be either:

- in receipt of a campaign badge for service during a war or in a campaign or expedition, OR
- a disabled veteran, OR
- in receipt of an Armed forces Service Medal for participation in a military operation, OR
- a recently separated veteran (within the last 3 years), AND
- separated under honorable conditions (this means an honorable or general discharge).
30% or More Disabled Veteran
The 30% or More Disabled Veteran authority allows any veteran with a 30% or more service-connected disability to be non-competitively appointed.

A candidate must be either:
• retired from active military service with a service-connected disability rating of 30% or more; OR
• have a rating by the Department of Veterans Affairs showing a compensable service-connected disability of 30% or more, AND
• separated under honorable conditions (this means an honorable or general discharge).

Schedule A Appointing Authority for People with Disabilities
The Schedule A authority for people with disabilities, 5 CFR 213.3102(u), is an excepted authority that can be used to appoint individuals who have a severe physical, psychological, or intellectual disability. To be eligible the candidate must:

• Show proof of disability. Documentation may be from any licensed medical professional (e.g., a physician or other medical professional certified by a State, the District of Columbia, or a U.S. Territory to practice medicine), a licensed vocational rehabilitation specialist (i.e., State or private), or any Federal or State agency, or agency of the District of Columbia or a U.S. territory that issues or provides disability benefits.

Once you have considered these options, if you do not believe they meet your needs, the following are various methods you may pursue based upon program unit need and/or the type of position to be filled:

Short Term Staffing Options

Temporary Appointments (1 year or less)
Temporary appointments in the competitive service may be used to fill a short-term position that you expect to last 1 year or less. The appointment may be extended up to a maximum of one additional year (24 months total.) These appointments are filled competitively through case examining procedures (5 CFR 316, subpart D).

Term Appointments (more than 1 year, up to a total of 4 years)
Term appointments may be used when the need for the employee's services is not permanent, including, but not limited to: project work; extraordinary workload; scheduled abolishment, reorganization, or contracting out of the function; uncertainty of future funding; or the need to maintain permanent positions for placement of employees who would otherwise be displaced from other parts of the organization. To recruit for Term appointments, you will normally use the case examining process, but you also have some noncompetitive options listed under “Alternative Staffing Options.” (5 CFR part 316, subpart C)

Temporary Promotions
Noncompetitive temporary promotions can be made for up to 120 days. Note that prior service during the preceding 12 months under noncompetitive temporary promotions or noncompetitive details to higher graded positions count toward the 120-day limit. The candidate must still meet time-in-grade and qualification requirements. Temporary promotions lasting more than 120 days (up to a maximum of 5 years) must be announced through merit promotion procedures. The announcement can include a provision that the action can be made permanent without further competition. (5 CFR part 335.102(f) and 335.103(c)(1)(i))

Details*
Employees may be detailed to positions at the same or lower grade level or unclassified duties in increments of 120 days or less and may be extended. Details to higher graded positions or to a position with promotion potential are limited to 120 days without competition (prior service during the preceding 12 months under noncompetitive temporary promotions or noncompetitive details to higher graded positions counts toward the 120 day limit). (5 CFR part 335.103(c)(1)(ii)). Also see: HR Fact Sheet: Detail Assignments and Requirements for Reimbursement

*Managers should follow-up with any employees who were interviewed/considered and were not selected for non-competitive temporary promotions and details to notify them that a selection has been made and respond to any questions they may have. Because these are not announced by HR, we have no way of notifying candidates.

Experts or Consultants
This appointment may be used to hire individuals to perform expert or consultant work that is temporary (not to exceed one year) or intermittent. (This differs from employing experts and consultants through procurement contracts, which are covered by regulations issued by the General Services Administration (GSA).) An expert is someone who is specifically qualified by education and experience to perform difficult and challenging tasks in a particular field and is regarded by other persons as an authority in the field. A consultant is someone who can provide valuable and pertinent advice generally drawn from a high degree of broad administrative, professional, or technical knowledge or experience. (5 U.S.C. 3109; 5 CFR 304)

Commercial Temporary Services
This option may be used for brief periods (120 days, with extension of an additional 120 days) for short-term situations when regular recruitment and hiring procedures are impractical, and the commercial service is purchased through the Federal procurement system. (5 CFR part 300, subpart E) Please contact the MRPBS-AAMD staff to pursue this option. They will coordinate with HR to clear CTAP if need is for 120 days or more.

Critical Hiring Need
A program with a critical hiring need may employ an individual under this authority in any series/grade level for 30 calendar days with one 30-day extension. You cannot employ the same person under this authority for more than 60 days in a 12-month period. You also cannot use this appointing authority to extend the service limits of any other authority. (5 CFR 213.3102(i)(2))

Recruitment Methods

Competitive Recruitment – you may use only one option unless your Program authorizes a waiver. (see Hiring Transformation Guidance at the end of this guide)

Case Examing
Case examining (also known as Delegated Examining (DE)) has been delegated to USDA by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and enables recruitment from outside of the Federal workforce.

Eligibility Requirements:
All U.S. Citizens may apply under Case Examination procedures. Consideration cannot be limited by geographic area.

Types of Appointments:
Career/Career Conditional
Temporary
Term

Case examining announcements are conducted in accordance with Category Rating policies and procedures.

Category Rating
Category Rating is used to assess applicants for positions placing them in quality categories. The intent of Category Rating is to increase the number of eligible candidates from which a selecting official can choose while preserving veterans’ preference rights.

For more information on Category Rating (e.g., referral of candidates, merging certificates), please visit: Category Rating Process and FAQ

For more information on how veterans' preference is applied in DE announcements and certificates, see Category Rating - Application of Veterans' Preference

Direct Hire Authority (DHA)
Direct-Hire Authority (DHA) may be authorized by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) for filling vacancies in specific occupations, grade levels, and locations. DHA is granted when it can be proven that there is a critical hiring need or a severe shortage of candidates. It expedites the hiring process by eliminating veterans’ preference adjudication, rating (i.e., assessment questions or panels) and ranking (category rating), as well as other typical selection procedures.

Although there is increased flexibility, public notice is still required. Announcements must be posted on USAJOBS and be open to the public for a minimum period of 5 business days. All applicants who file a timely application and meet the basic eligibility and qualification requirements for the position are referred to the hiring manager for consideration and may be selected. Certificates of qualified candidates are valid for 90 days.

Appointment Options
Agencies may use any of the DHAs listed below to make competitive service career/career conditional, term, or temporary appointments.

Current Government-wide Direct Hire Authorities:
Scientific, Technical, Engineering, Mathematics (STEM) Occupations – Direct hire authority was recently approved and applies nationwide for the specific occupations/grade levels listed below. This authority expires October 11, 2023.

Note: Probationary/Trial Period Requirements

Individuals selected for permanent appointments will be required to complete a 1-year probationary period and selectees for term appointments will be required to complete a 1-year trial period. However, there may be situations where the selectee has prior service that is creditable toward completion of the probationary/trial period which may mean the probationary/trial period is completed. The probationary period does not guarantee that the selectee will not have appeal rights. Check with your servicing specialist if you have questions.

Merit Promotion

Merit Promotion is the recruitment method that targets Federal employees with competitive status (already on a career or career conditional appointment), and may also include reinstatement-eligible individuals (previously employed under a career or career conditional appointment), and individuals who can apply under special hiring authorities.

For complete information on merit promotion requirements that are required for MRP and agencies and USDA see: USDA Merit Promotion Plan

Eligibility Requirements: The following individuals may apply under merit promotion announcements:

- Status candidates (within the Area of Consideration (AOC), if applicable)
- In APHIS, the Area of Consideration (AOC) must be at least APHIS wide. In AMS, Hiring Manager may limit the AOC to specific programs, agencies, and/or a geographic location.
- Additional candidate pools and authorities if indicated on the vacancy announcement: Veterans Employment Opportunities Act (VEOA), Veterans Recruitment Appointment (VRA), Disability appointments and Reinstatement eligibles may be included in ‘Who May Apply’ in addition to the AOC

The candidate must also meet the qualification requirements for the position being filled. Only “best qualified” candidates are referred on a certificate under merit promotion. There is no category rating, or veterans’ preference applied. You may do your own evaluation of candidates after receiving the certificate to determine those that will be interviewed.

Types of Appointments:
Career/career conditional
Excepted appointments (special hiring authorities)
Temporary promotions (for career/career conditional employees)

Pathways Program

Pathways Internship
The Internship program is for current students enrolled at least half-time. The program provides students in high school, college, trade school and other qualifying educational institutions with paid opportunities to work in agencies and explore Federal careers while completing their education.

Recent Graduates
The Recent Graduates program provides career entry into the civil service to individuals who, within the previous two years, graduated from qualifying educational institutions with an associates, bachelors, masters, professional, doctorate, vocational or technical degree or certificate from qualifying educational institutions. To be eligible, applicants must apply within two years of degree or certificate completion, except for veterans precluded from doing so due to their military service obligation. Veterans who meet that criteria will have up to six years after degree or certificate completion to apply.

Presidential Management Fellows (PMF)
The PMF program is the Federal Government's premier leadership development program for advanced degree (e.g., masters or professional degree) candidates. This program is administered by the Office of Personnel Management (OPM.) There is an annual offer of candidates, and there is a fee that must be paid to OPM to hire.

Type of Appointment:
Excepted Service eligible to convert to a Competitive Service (Career Conditional) appointment.

STEP 2 - Review and Update Position Description (PD)
A current Position Description (PD) is essential for an accurate vacancy announcement. If this isn’t addressed at the start of the hiring process it can cause delays when the announcement does not accurately reflect the position. If you have a PD that is five years or older, we recommend reviewing the PD and working with your Classification Specialist to make any necessary updates. This is especially true if there has been a supervisory change in the work unit and/or there has been a reorganization within the program unit. The updates can range from minor – cosmetic organizational language – to major – substantive additions and/or deletions of job duties. If you are unsure if your PDs are current, need help updating them, or simply want copies for your files, contact your servicing classification specialist.
For more information on classification, please visit the following link: Classification Guide

Job Analysis
A job analysis establishes the rating criteria used to determine which applicants will be referred for selection and should be based upon an in-depth analysis of the job. The staffing specialist will work closely with the hiring manager or the SME to determine the major job duties and identify the duties that are most important. Analysis of the job entails a review of the position description, classification standard, performance plan, qualification standard, etc., to ensure the duties are fully understood.

Once the major duties have been identified through the job analysis, the staffing specialist will work with the Hiring Manager and/or an identified SME to identify the competencies candidates need to successfully perform major duties. Candidates who do not have the outlined competencies will not be qualified and referred for the position.

Question Library
Your staffing specialist will provide you with already developed assessment questions to select from or will work with you to develop new assessment questions, as necessary. You will select 8-12 questions from the question library that assess or measure the competencies of the applicants to determine if they match those needed for the position.

The question library is fillable, allowing you to fill in the necessary information on the Competency Table. The Competency Table asks you to provide a brief explanation of the duties that support using that particular competency and then list the competency questions you would like to use in the vacancy announcement.

Specific instructions are included within the individual question libraries.

Specialized Experience
Well written specialized experience statements let applicants know what types of experience they need to possess and demonstrate in their resume to meet minimum qualifications. Specialized experience statements must be job related, based on essential duties and competencies required of the position, and meet any requirements listed in the qualifications standard for the occupational series.

For additional information on creating effective specialized experience examples see Appendix D.

STEP 4 – Submit Request for Personnel Action (‘Recruit’ SF-52)

The Recruit SF-52 is the official request for action to be taken by HR. Your staffing specialist will verify when he or she has received all required recruitment material and is ready to have you submit your Recruit SF-52. First and second line managers’ approval on the SF-52 authorizes action and confirms the position is approved to fill.

Submit SF-52s to the MRP Human Resources Operations office via eTracker, an electronic system specific to USDA, Marketing & Regulatory Programs. Typically, office administrative support personnel initiate the SF-52 forms. The first or second line supervisor will then need to log into the system to review the SF-52 information and agree to/authorize release of the SF-52 form. Please contact your administrative support staff if you have additional questions about submitting a personnel action through eTracker.

STEP 5 – Create Vacancy Announcement/Receive and Review Applications/Issue Certificate

Job Opportunity Announcement

Using the materials supplied, HR will create a Job Opportunity Announcement (JOA.) You will receive a courtesy copy from the USA Staffing system and will have a brief opportunity to review the JOA and approve the information or make suggested changes.

Please click on the link below to access the Hiring Manager Resource page for USA Staffing. For an overview of the system, as well as information on how to review a vacancy preview, access “A Quick Start Guide for Hiring Managers” at the bottom of the screen:

After the review, return the JOA to HR through the USA Staffing system. The vacancy announcement will be posted on the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) USAJOBS website: https://www.usajobs.gov/

If employees or applicants ask about the application process or the status of their application, advise them to contact the applicant help line listed on the vacancy announcement. Applicants are also able to view current status information for an application by logging into their USAJOBS account.

Qualification Determination

OPM Qualification standards outline the necessary basic eligibility requirements for occupations and for each grade in the occupation. They specify the minimum quality level and amount of experience required and often allow education as a substitute for experience.

HR uses the OPM Operating Manual: Qualification Standards for General Schedule Positions, classified position description, and specialized experience examples (if applicable) to determine the basic qualifications of each applicant. HRO reviews applications for basic education requirements and minimum qualifications (related experience and/or education substitution).

For Case Examining and Pathways recruitments that follow category rating procedures, applicants will be assigned an assessment score based on their responses to the assessment questions you’ve selected. Only those candidates who score in the Best Qualified category (95-100) will be reviewed for qualifications initially. For Merit Promotion or any recruitment without a scored assessment (e.g., Direct Hire), HR will review all applicants for eligibility, basic education requirements and minimum qualifications.

Preparing for your certificate

Once the announcement closes, a certificate is typically issued within 15-20 calendar days. Depending on the size of the applicant pool or current recruitment workload, more time may be necessary.

The hiring manager should prepare for receipt of the certificate during this time by:
• Preparing (review/update) interview questions
• Identifying the members of the interview panel (if you plan to have one)

Once issued, you will have 15 calendar days to make a selection. Additional extensions of the certificate may be available and must be discussed with HR on a case-by-case basis.

STEP 6 – Conduct Interviews/Check References/Make Selection

Reviewing Resumes
When you receive your certificate you, or your delegated panel of subject matter experts, should thoroughly review all candidate applications and determine which candidates to interview.

If anyone else needs to be added to the certificate review, please contact your servicing Staffing Specialist: https://www.aphis.usda.gov/aphis/ourfocus/business-services/HRD/Contact_Us

Interviewing Applicants
As the hiring official, you will likely be the one who conducts the interviews. However, you may designate another person or a panel with knowledge of the position to participate in the interview. We recommend considering diversity when determining the panel make up.

Conducting interviews is highly recommended, as they give you an opportunity to gather additional information from the applicant and verify the skills and competencies listed in their application package. An interview will provide you with more information for determining and justifying your selection. The interview can be especially useful in evaluating oral communication abilities and interpersonal skills that are not otherwise easily measured in writing.

If a panel is used, all members should be at or above the full performance level of the position being filled and typically include subject matter experts with knowledge of the position. Facilitators and/or EEO observers are not required, however, your program may have internal guidance requiring the use of these individuals during your interview process.

Number of Interviews Required
Case Examining (public announcement) certificates do not require a particular number of candidates be interviewed. However, veterans’ preference applies and those applicants listed at the top of your certificate with an identified veteran’s preference (CPS, CP, XP, TP, etc.) must be considered before you can consider any non-veteran candidates listed below them on the certificate. Therefore, you may want to consider only contacting/interviewing the veterans initially. You will need to either select them or receive a declination before you may consider the non-veterans on your certificate.

Merit promotion (internal status candidates, reinstatement eligibles, and special hiring authorities) certificates are covered by the USDA Merit Promotion Plan (MPP) and are subject to certain interview requirements. Your certificates will be listed as either Competitive Merit Promotion (competitive) or Merit Referral List (noncompetitive). If you will be interviewing from a Competitive Merit Promotion certificate, then the USDA MPP requires that you interview at least five candidates (or all those referred, if fewer than five) from that same certificate. Noncompetitive merit promotion certificates do not require a minimum number of interviews.

If any of the candidates you contact for an interview decline further consideration, they would still count toward the requirement to interview at least five candidates.

Interviewing Techniques
Interview questions should elicit job-related information relative to the competencies of the position for which the candidate is applying. Prepare questions in advance to ensure that all candidates are treated in the same manner. Generally, ask the same questions of each candidate. However, you or the panel may ask follow-up questions to obtain additional or clarifying information in order to assess an individual’s specific qualifications for the position. Allot the same amount of interview time for each applicant, with time allowed for the applicant to ask questions of the interviewer(s).

We recommend taking notes in order to record key points from the interview. It is also helpful to note the date, time, place, and length of the interview. Keep a record of the interview questions, any notes made regarding their responses, and the name of individual(s) who conducted the interview on file. This information can be critical in the event that a candidate files an Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) complaint.

You may ask all candidates to bring writing samples, such as reports, publications, or technical articles to the interview. Asking applicants to take a writing or other work sample test at the time of interview must be documented upfront in the vacancy announcement. You should work with your staffing specialist to ensure any work samples and simulations (e.g., writing test, proofreading test, presentation) follow OPM’s assessment guidance and does not create disparate impact for any applicants.

Please see the following link for the complete guidance on work sample assessments:

For supplemental guidance on interviewing, please see our Interviewing, Reference Checking, and Selection: A Guide for Selecting Officials.

Documenting a Candidate’s Failure to Respond
1. E-mail and call the candidate to arrange the interview and include a deadline of at least 24 hours for a reply; when calling, record the date and time and a summary of the conversation or the details of the message that was left. The two methods should be used to ensure the candidate receives the message as soon as possible.
   a. If the candidate responds and accepts the opportunity to interview, confirm the interview by e-mail and state that not showing up for the appointment will be considered a declination.
   b. If the candidate declines, retain a copy of the e-mail (if applicable) or create a written record of the telephone conversation, including the date and time of the call.
2. If there is no response by the deadline, please send the following e-mail and allow the candidate 2 business days to respond:

   I recently contacted you by e-mail and telephone regarding your application for our (Position Title) vacancy, announcement number (XXXXXX). I have not received a response to my inquiries regarding your availability for an interview. As a reminder, you replied affirmatively to the question in the applicant questionnaire about understanding that correspondence would be through e-mail and the need to keep your e-mail address current. Failure to respond by (time/date-2 business days) will be regarded as a declination and you will not receive further consideration for the position.

   a. If the candidate responds and accepts the opportunity to interview, confirm the interview by e-mail and state that not showing up for the appointment will be considered a declination.
   b. If the candidate declines, retain a copy of the e-mail (if applicable) or create a written record of the telephone conversation, including the date and time of the call.
   c. If the candidate does not respond, make a written record that a response was not received.

3. Recordkeeping - send copies of all correspondence to HRO for inclusion in the announcement case file and keep a copy for your records.

   Checking References
   The USDA Merit Promotion Plan requires selecting officials to complete reference checks prior to making a final selection from a merit promotion certificate. It is highly recommend that you conduct reference checks for all other selections (e.g., Case Examining, Pathways, noncompetitive hiring authorities).

   Extending Certificates
   If you need an extension of your certificate, send an email request to extend the certificate to your staffing service provider. Please ensure you include the announcement/vacancy number in your request.

   Submitting a tentative selection
   Once you have made your tentative selection(s), document the certificate and submit the selection(s) to HRO using USA Staffing. Annotate your top selection(s) by marking them as selected in the system. Select at least one and no more than three alternate selections, in order from first to third choice. If necessary, HR will contact the hiring manager prior to proceeding with an alternate selection in first to third choice order. Do not discuss job offers or selections with any potential candidates. Please review the USA Staffing Hiring Manager Making Selections guidance for more information.

   Please click on the below link to access the Hiring Manager Resource...
Manager for USA Staffing. For an overview of the system, which includes information on how to return a selection, feel free to access “A Quick Start Guide for Hiring Managers” at the bottom of the screen: https://help.usastaffing.gov/HiringManager/index.php?title=Hiring_Manager

Notifying candidates of your decision

Once HR has completed the pre-onboarding process and issued a final offer letter to your selectee, you should follow-up with all of the other interviewed candidates to notify them of your decision and respond to any questions they may have.

Please note that 5 CFR 330.502 restricts movement of employees (e.g., promotion, transfer, reinstatement, reassignment, or detail to a different position or different geographical area) within the first 90 days of competitive appointment to protect competitive principles. This applies to competitive hiring under Case Examining/Delegated Examining. We strongly recommend using the same 90 day window for appointments made through Merit Promotion to ensure there is no perceived or actual adverse impact on any other candidates.

STEP 7 – Make Tentative Job Offer & Issue Pre-Employment Paperwork

Once we have received your selection in USA Staffing, we will send a tentative offer letter to the candidate via email in USA Staffing Onboarding. As the hiring manager, you will be copied on the tentative offer email. If you wish to contact the selectee personally about the tentative offer, you may do so after receiving the email.

Pre-Employment Paperwork

Your selectee will be asked to complete a variety of pre-employment forms and be fingerprinted (if applicable) based upon the type of appointment and any unique position specific documents will be requested (e.g. official transcripts when qualifications require education, applicant drug testing, etc.) The majority of the information and forms needed from the selectee are completed in the USA Staffing Onboarding system.

Projected effective dates may be provided to a selectee, but a final effective date cannot be set until all pre-employment paperwork has been completed and reviewed by HR. Once that has been done, We will provide your selectee with a final offer letter confirming the effective date of their appointment. We recommend that the effective date for new hires (not currently MRP employees) should be set out at least one pay period (2 weeks). This provides the lead time needed for equipment to be obtained and access accounts to be established. Without sufficient time before the effective date you can expect delays in establishing the selectee’s access and you may need to take additional steps to alert MRP-IT that you have a new employee needing computer setup and access.

What if a candidate declines a tentative offer?

When the candidate receives the tentative offer letter from USA Staffing, they will be instructed to log into the system to take further action. Upon logging into USA Staffing, they will either accept the offer, request to be contacted, or decline the offer. If the candidate requests to be contacted or declines the tentative offer, the Staffing Specialist will reach out to you with further instructions.

If the candidate contacts you directly and declines the position, please complete a Verbal Declination Record Form.
Recruitment Incentives

If you feel you may need to offer a recruitment incentive in an announcement to attract the best qualified candidates or your selectee has declined their tentative offer, you may want to consult your HR Specialist about the appropriateness of using any of the following available incentives:

STEP 8 – Onboard New Employee

After HR has completed working with your selectee on their pre-employment paperwork, your critical role of welcoming and onboarding your new employee begins in earnest. Onboarding is the process of integrating employees into their new work environment. It starts before their first day, goes beyond the orientation process and follows the employee through their first year of employment.

Effective employee onboarding serves three purposes. First, it ensures that the employee feels welcome, comfortable, prepared and supported. Second, effective onboarding increases the new employee’s ability to be productive and successful, both immediately and over time. Finally, successful onboarding leads to satisfaction and retention, which allows the Agency to continue to fulfill its mission.

Your role is to welcome the new employee, introduce them to the culture and values of the Agency, explain what is expected of them, and enhance their experience. Supervisors play a vital role in making their transition into the agency as smooth and successful as possible.

We have included a supervisory checklist (form AD-3020) in the attachments to this handbook. The checklist will help lead you through your employee’s first 90 days. It is incumbent upon you to ensure that you or a designee covers each of these items are with your new employee. By following this checklist, you will begin the relationship with your employee and ensure a solid path to inclusion and productivity. We have also included the USDA supervisory guide for your reference.

On the employee’s first day, please ensure they participate in New Employee Orientation (NEO.) In addition to providing further employment information and instructions, the NEO facilitator and/or you as the supervisor will assist the employee in completing their ‘First Day’ forms. You can find additional resources and information at the following link: New Employee Orientation - Supervisor Resources

Upon completion of the Day 1 forms, please ensure those forms are forwarded to the servicing processing associate in Human Resources Operations. Legal and Policy Requirements

Elements used in a selection process must be job related and must use legal and consistent criteria to determine the best qualified candidates for referral and selection. Merit principles and job relatedness have been long-standing requirements in the Federal government.

In 1978 the Civil Service Reform Act, Uniform Guidelines on Employee Selection Procedures (UGESP), was issued. The guidelines are intended to establish a uniform basis of selection procedure criteria in the Federal sector. This guide imposes on employers the criteria by which the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission evaluates hiring practices to ensure adherence to merit principles. The UGESP applies to both in-service placement actions and external hiring practices.

A selection procedure is any measure, combination of measures, or procedures used as a basis for an employment decision. This applies, but is not be limited to, job analyses, crediting (ranking) plans, interviews, and the selection process itself.

All documents and the processes that develop these documents, which support the referral and selection of candidates, must contain only job-related criteria. The documents become part of the overall record supporting selection procedures used.

Merit System Principles

Personnel management is based on and embodies the Merit System Principles. The Merit System Principles are the public’s expectations of a system that is efficient, effective, fair, open to all, free from political interference, and staffed by honest, competent and dedicated employees. As MRP experiences continued change in the management of human resources (centralization, deregulation, delegation, etc.), it becomes increasingly important that line supervisors and managers incorporate the Merit System Principles into every decision process they use.

The Merit System Principles are:

1. Recruit qualified individuals from all segments of society and select and promote employees on the basis of merit after fair and open competition which assures that all receive equal opportunity.

2. Treat employees and applicants fairly and equitably, without regard to political affiliation, race, color, religion, national origin sex, marital status, age, or handicapping condition, and with proper regard for their privacy and constitutional rights.

3. Provide equal pay for equal work and recognize excellent performance.

4. Maintain high standards of integrity, conduct, and concern for the public interest.

5. Manage employees efficiently and effectively.

6. Retain and separate employees on the basis of their performance.
7. Educate and train employees when it will result in better organizational or individual performance.

8. Protect employees from arbitrary action, personal favoritism, or coercion for partisan political purposes.

9. Protect employees against reprisal for the lawful disclosure of information in "whistleblower" situations (i.e., protecting people who report things such as illegal and/or wasteful activities).

Prohibited Personnel Practices

Prohibited personnel practices are those things an employee with personnel authority may not do. An employee has personnel authority if he or she can take, direct others to take, recommend, or approve any personnel action. This includes appointments, promotions, discipline, details, transfers, reassignments, reinstatements, or any decisions concerning pay, benefits, training, and any decision to order psychiatric testing or examination. A personnel action now also includes any significant change in duties, responsibilities, or working conditions which is inconsistent with the employee’s salary or grade. People with personnel authority are charged with avoiding prohibited personnel practices. Prohibited personnel practices are:

- Discriminating on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, handicapping condition, marital status, or political affiliation.
- Soliciting or Considering any personnel recommendation or statement not based on personal knowledge or records of performance, ability, aptitude, general qualifications, character, loyalty, or suitability.
- Coercing an employee’s political activity.
- Deceiving or obstructing any person with respect to such person’s right to compete for employment.
- Influencing a person to withdraw from competition for the purpose of improving or injuring the prospects of another person for employment.
- Granting any preference or advantage not authorized by law, regulation, or rule to any [employee or applicant for the purpose of improving or injuring the prospects of another person for employment].
- Employing, promoting or advocating a relative.
- Retaliating against a Whistleblower, whether an employee or an applicant.
- Retaliating against employees or applicants who exercise their appeal rights, testify, or cooperate with an Inspector General or the Special Counsel, or refuse to break the law.
- Discriminating based on actions not adversely affecting performance.
- Violating any law, rule, or regulation implementing or directly concerning the Merit Principles.
- Violating Veteran's Preference by taking or failure to take a personnel action. (National Defense Authorization Act for FY97)

Avoiding prohibited personnel practices will not guarantee that you will never have to defend a decision or action, but it will give you a firm basis from which to start.
Appendix D - Specialized Experience Guide for Hiring Managers

Having accurate specialized experience on your vacancy announcement could be the difference between filling your job with a quality candidate and not filling your job at all.

To ensure you have the right specialized experience on your job announcement, collaborate with your HR Staffing Specialist to follow these basic guidelines…

Remember that specialized experience defines the skill set(s) of a minimally qualified applicant -- NOT the best qualified applicant.

- Assessment questions provide an initial ranking of candidates against the experience relevant to your position.
- Candidates are then assessed against the specialized experience and OPM standards.

Example: Give employee benefit presentations to new employees at orientation.

Specialized experience statements should be specific, measurable, attainable, and relevant to the position and grade level being announced.

Specific
- The examples should be specific, especially at high grades. Avoid generalized examples when possible.

Measurable
- The examples must be measurable on a resume or cover letter. Avoid examples that are typically measured through observation (e.g., Attention to Detail, Presentation Skills).

Attainable
- The examples must be attainable or realistic for the position. Write examples that are appropriate for the grade level. While specific is good, we cannot be restrictive.

Relevant
- The examples must be relevant to the position and the occupational series. Avoid examples that do not have a nexus to the position.

Definition of specialized experience is at the next lower grade or equivalent to that in the Federal Service, NOT at the grade the position is being recruited for.

For example, if you are recruiting for a GS-14 that would require experience briefing senior executives as a project manager in an organization, your specialized experience would include statements that reference briefing middle management as a project member at the GS-13 level or equivalent.

Do’s and Don’ts of Creating Specialized Experience:

Do’s:
- Be directly related to the position and reflected/supported by the position description
- Be able to be demonstrated in a resume
- Include experience that is an absolute necessity for the position
- Reflect experience needed to prepare a candidate to perform the duties of the position without more than normal supervision of the grade level being filled
- Be different for each grade level
- Exercise caution when using “must” or “may”

Don’ts:
- Contain lists or too many activities or functions that make the statement too cumbersome or detailed
- Be written as a knowledge, skill, ability, or competency nor contain adjectives that cannot be measured (i.e. exceptional, superior, extensive)
- Be too restrictive for the targeted applicant pool
- Contain additional requirements beyond the basic qualifications
- Contain acronyms/Federal acronyms on case exam announcements
- List the duties of the current position description being announced for

Do not include too many requirements - because applicants have to demonstrate their experience on their resume in order to meet the definition of specialized experience.

3-5 statements is a good “rule of thumb” to describe your CORE qualifications.

You may need to provide more in some cases, but critically evaluate if that is necessary with your HR Staffing Specialist…and don’t be afraid to edit.
