Animal Product Export Requirements

Go

This country is a member state of the European Union. In addition to any commodity-specific information listed on this page, the European Union has harmonized requirements for certain animal-origin products. Visit Export Animal Products to the European Union to learn more about harmonized protocols.

Advisory regarding net weight noted on certificates Ireland has indicated that certificates requiring the Net Weight for a shipment to be noted, should note the weight of the actual product, excluding all packaging.

Determining Which Certification Requirements Apply

Exporters should always have their importers confirm BEFORE shipment that the consignment will be allowed entry with only the documentation accompanying the consignment. If there is any doubt about European Union or Country requirements a consignment will fall, or when requirements are not listed, the U.S. exporter should have this country's importer email the pertinent border inspection post (BIP) through which the consignment will enter the importing country. The email should include a description of the proposed import, including the animal-origin contents and the intended use of the material in the importing country. The BIP will respond to the importer in writing. The U.S. exporter should then obtain that response from the importer and provide it and a translation of it (including the original email question) to their local VS Field Operations Veterinary Export Trade Services.

Commodity Specific Information

Yellow Grease/Used Vegetable Oil for Biodiesel

Ireland does not require government certification for the import of yellow grease (used vegetable oil) intended for biodiesel. The importer is required to receive a license from Irish authorities prior to import the material. Exporters should have their importers confirm they have this license prior to shipment.
