Welcome! Congratulations on your new employment with USDA Marketing and Regulatory Programs (MRP). MRP facilitates domestic and international marketing of U.S. agricultural products and ensures the health and care of animals and plants.

Marketing and Regulatory Programs

Marketing and Regulatory Programs (MRP) is made up of two agencies which are active participants in setting national and international standards.

The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) is a multi-faceted Agency with a broad mission area that includes protecting and promoting U.S. agricultural health, regulating genetically engineered organisms, administering the Animal Welfare Act, and carrying out wildlife damage management activities. These efforts support the overall mission of USDA, which is to protect and promote food, agriculture, natural resources, and related issues.

The Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) facilitates the strategic marketing of agricultural products in domestic and international markets while ensuring fair trading practices and promoting a competitive and efficient marketplace. AMS constantly works to develop new marketing services to increase customer satisfaction.

Resources for New Employees, Supervisors, and Onboarding Program Point of Contacts

APHIS and AMS have both recognized the value in structuring an Onboarding program for New Employees. While all documents and links to available resources are available to employees of both Agencies, if you are an AMS employee, we recommend that you use those marked with AMS Employees Only when applicable.
