Pet Travel From the United States to China

Last Modified:

Welcome! This page will guide you through the rules and requirements for traveling internationally with your pet.

Before You Start the Process

Find a USDA-Accredited Veterinarian

With help from a USDA-accredited veterinarian, you can learn more about your destination country's entry requirements for pets, including any needed vaccinations, tests, or treatments. We recommend creating a schedule to make sure you meet all requirements within the specified timeframe.

Gather This Information for Your USDA-Accredited Veterinarian

- The type of pet traveling
- The destination country
- If applicable, countries where your pet will stop (for customs clearance or upon leaving the airport or seaport) on the way to the destination country
- The date of departure from the United States

- Whether the pet will be traveling alone, as cargo, or with a person in the cabin of the plane
- Note: If you're traveling with a pet bird or exotic animal, you may need to work with additional agencies, such as the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (1.41 MB) and Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

Travel Requirements Based on Pet Type

Pet Dogs and Cats for Entry into ANY Port & No Quarantine Required

***IF A PET DOES NOT MEET ALL OF THE REQUIREMENTS BELOW, IT MUST ENTER THROUGH A DESIGNATED PORT (as outlined in the “Pet Dogs and Cats for Entry into a Designated Port and Quarantine Required” dropdown menu), OR IT WILL BE EUTHANIZED OR RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES.***

Effective May 1, 2019, China will allow entry of U.S. pets (dogs and cats) to enter through any port of arrival in China without a quarantine, ONLY IF ALL the following conditions are met.

Step 1: Proof of rabies vaccination

- Your pet must have been vaccinated at least TWICE in its lifetime, and be current on rabies vaccinations at the time of arrival in China.
- An original copy of the current rabies vaccine certificate must accompany the APHIS-endorsed health certificate, and at the time of arrival in China will need to be provided to, and may be kept by, the Quarantine Officials.
- Please travel with photocopies of your pet’s rabies vaccine certificate, as they may be requested.

Step 2: Identification with microchip

- Your pet must be individually identified by microchip.
- Your pet should be implanted with an ISO compliant (11784 and 11785) microchip. ISO compliant microchips are 15 digits long.
  - If your pet does not have an ISO compliant microchip, you will need to travel with a microchip reader that can read your pet's microchip.

Step 3: Proof of rabies titer tests

- Your pet must be accompanied by an original rabies titer test laboratory report which states the pet has an antibody titer of at least 0.5 IU/mL and this report must accompany the APHIS-endorsed health certificate, and at the time of arrival in China will need to be provided to, and may be kept by, the Quarantine Officials.
- Rabies testing must be performed at one of the following approved laboratories:
  - DoD Food Analysis & Diagnostic Laboratory
  - Kansas State University Rabies Laboratory
  - Auburn University College of Veterinary Medicine, Department of Pathobiology Virology Laboratory
- Testing must occur on the same day as, or any day after administration of the second rabies vaccination.
- Rabies titer test sampling date, laboratory name and test results must be recorded on the health certificate, and are considered valid for up to one year after the sampling date, unless there has been no lapse in rabies vaccinations since the sampling date, and all rabies vaccinations subsequent to the sampling date are recorded in the "other vaccines, treatments, and/or test and results" section.

NOTE: Pets originating from Hawaii or Guam are exempt from the rabies titer testing requirement.

Step 4: International Health Certificate

- Only one (1) pet per traveler is allowed. The traveler's name must be on the pet's veterinary health certificate (Ex: Consignor's Name) and match the name on the traveler's passport.

- Each pet must have its own veterinary health certificate, and only one (1) pet may be listed per certificate.
- Health certificates must be issued by your USDA accredited veterinarian within 14 days of arrival in China, and be endorsed by USDA-APHIS.
- Health certificates must contain all of the following information about the pet:
  1. Microchip number, date and location of implantation
  2. Date of birth or age
  3. Rabies vaccine information, including:
    - Type (inactive, modified or recombinant)
    - Date of administration
    - Date of vaccine validity expiration
    - Name of the vaccine administered
    - Name of the vaccine manufacturing company
  4. Rabies antibody titer test information, including:
    - Sample collection date
    - Name of laboratory used
    - Rabies titer test results
  5. Attestation that the pet has undergone clinical examination and is free of signs of disease.
- Health certificates must be accompanied by an original copy of the current rabies vaccine certificate and the rabies titer laboratory report. At the time of arrival in China, all three documents will need to be provided to, and may be kept by, the Quarantine Officials.

Step 5: Documentation upon arrival

- The pet's APHIS-endorsed health certificate must be accompanied by an original copy of the current rabies vaccine certificate and the rabies titer laboratory report.
- One photocopy of the traveler's passport is required for each pet.
- A digital photo of the pet printed on regular paper, and one photocopy, are also required.

- For large dogs it is best to have something in the photo to help judge the size of the animal.

Upon arrival, you will need to take the pet, fees, and all documents to the General Administration of Customs of the Peoples Republic of China (GACC) office at the airport and these documents may be kept by the Quarantine Officials.

Step 6 registering your pet upon arrival in China

Dogs need to be registered with the local police of your place of residence within one month of arrival in China.

- Contact the local police office for further information on registering your pet.

Pet Dogs and Cats for Entry into a Designated Port and Quarantine Required

***UNLESS A PET CAN MEET ALL OF THE REQUIREMENTS ABOVE (as outlined in the “Pet Dogs and Cats for Entry into ANY Port and No Quarantine Required” dropdown menu), IT MUST ENTER THROUGH A DESIGNATED PORT, OR IT WILL BE EUTHANIZED OR RETURNED TO THE UNITED STATES.*****

Effective May 1, 2019, China will allow entry of U.S. pets (dogs and cats) to enter China through any port without a quarantine ONLY IF the pet has been vaccinated twice for rabies, is microchipped, and has a valid rabies titer (except for pets from Hawaii and Guam).

Any pet that cannot meet those requirements MUST enter China through one of the designated ports listed below, and will be required to complete a 30-day post-arrival quarantine:

Step 3: Customs and Quarantine

- Chinese Customs needs to be notified of your pet's arrival in advance of travel.
- On arrival, you will need to take the pet, fees, and certificates to the General Administration of Customs of the Peoples Republic of China (GACC) office at the airport.
- The pet is required to complete a 30-day quarantine in the GACC designated facility.
  - During quarantine, if clinical symptoms are observed, pets will be required to have an examination and undergo laboratory testing.
  - The pet will be released only after the pet is determined to be healthy and has passed the required testing.

Step 4: Registering your Pet upon Arrival in China

Dogs need to be registered with the local police of your place of residence within one month of arrival in China.

- Contact the local police office for further information on registering your pet.

Other Pets

For pet travel requirements not listed, APHIS has not been officially informed by the foreign country about the requirements for your pet's travel. We recommend that you contact a government official of the country you are traveling to for more information.

Important Travel Considerations

If you are transiting (passing through) the European Union:

If your pet is traveling through (transiting) a country in the European Union (EU) on the way to a third, non-EU country, you will also need a transit health certificate for your pet for the EU. The transit health certificate will be the same as if your pet's final destination was the EU country. Use the information and steps above under "Travel Requirements Based on Pet Type" to determine which health certificate should be used. View a list of EU countries.

Considerations for airline travel:

Airlines and shipping lines have their own policies and requirements for transporting pets. Check with your airline or shipping representative to determine what requirements they may have.
