

Diagnostic and Research Samples

Finland requires the importer to obtain an import permit for the import of diagnostic and research samples but does not require any government certification of the consignment.