

Livestock feed, feed supplements, and feed ingredients (animal-origin materials intended for consumption by livestock)

The Russian Federation requires certifications for animal-origin livestock feed and feed ingredients that cannot be endorsed by Veterinary Services.

FDA may be able to provide some certification for some of these materials.