

A man in a brown suit is shown from the chest up. His head is replaced by a dense collection of various insects, including caterpillars, beetles, and moths, along with green corn cobs and two green apples. His lapels are also filled with similar insect and plant life. The background is a soft-focus field of green grass.

BEAUTIFUL
STATE
YOU LIVE IN.
I COULD JUST EAT IT UP!”

Invasive species threaten to devour
our crops, trees, and way of life.
Leave hungry pests behind.
