2023-APHIS-05802-F	Meltzer, Jon	Bloomberg Industry Group	According to the AHPIS web page on feral hogs, the agency has been advising farmers and citizens how to assess and report damages to their land caused by invasive feral hogs. This is a news media request for any databases or data sheets containing records collected by APHIS related to economic, agricultural or ecological damages caused by feral hogs. Such data has been used in the past to generate research reports like the following, shared with Bloomberg Industry by APHIS' press agent: https://nwrcc.contentdm.oclc.org/digital/collection/NWRCPubs1/id/58509/rec/16 We are interested in records, in CSV format if available, detailing: - The size of areas damaged; - The dollar amount of estimates of said damage; - The type of damages caused (crops, etc); - GIS-compatible location data of the areas damaged; - Anything else that APHIS deems relevant to an investigation of how damaging the feral hog problem has been to communities across the US, especially in the Southeast, South and Plains states. We are of course not interested in sensitive data that would compromise private citizens, only in the data relevant to an investigation of how invasive species are harming agricultural and rural communities. Please advise how we can further assist APHIS and the USDA in processing and fulfilling this request in a timely manner. (Date Range for Record Search: From 01/01/2017 To 07/31/2023)	8/18/2023
