

Cell Lines from Livestock Species

Italy requires the following certification for the import of cell lines from livestock species:

The sample was obtained under hygienic conditions and is not likely to transmit infectious animal disease.

As always, the Italian importer should contact the pertinent Italian authorities prior to import to confirm import is allowed.

For information on the import of cell lines from non-livestock species, e.g., cell lines from rodents, fish, dogs, cats, etc.. please go back to the previous page and select:
