

Pet Food and Treats Containing Freeze-Dried Animal-Origin Materials

NVRQS (Korean) authorities have indicated that pet food containing freeze-dried animal origin materials is not permitted import into Korea (unless the finished pet food is further cooked).

NVRQS has indicated that they do not regulate the pet food if the only animal origin ingredient is freeze-dried fish. Documentation may be required that the pet food contains no animal origin ingredients other than freeze-dried fish. Exporters should have their importers verify with NVRQS port officials prior to export that the product can enter with the available documents.
