

Products for Human Consumption

This article pertains to products (other than dairy, gelatin, or gelatin capsules) intended for human consumption. (For information on dairy, gelatin, or gelatin capsules, please go back to the general Turkey file, and select the pertinent individual links.)

Turkey currently requires certificates of free sale for other items intended for human consumption. APHIS is not the competent authority to endorse these certificates.

Exporters should contact the FDA for more information on certificates of free sale for commodities other than meat. For information on the export of meat, exporters should contact FSIS.