

Hunting Lures Derived from Cervid Urine

On June 23, 2023, United Kingdom animal health authorities announced a prohibition on the import from the United States of hunting lures derived from/containing the urine of cervid animals.

Exports of hunting lures derived from cervid urine are not eligible for import into the United Kingdom.