

Enhancing Montana's Wildlife and Habitat
presents

Tools for Coexistence between Livestock & Large Carnivores: Guard Dogs & Rangeland Stewardship

Tuesday, October 29, 2013, 6:00-9:00 PM
Lindley Center, 1102 E. Curtiss St., Bozeman, MT
Free and open to the public

Guest Speakers

- Michael Marlow, USDA Wildlife Services, Wildlife Biologist/Resource Management Specialist - "Livestock Protection Dogs, Protecting the Resource"
- Julie Young, PhD, Principal Investigator/Field Station Leader, USDA Wildlife Services National Wildlife Research Center's Predator Ecology Field Station, "Evaluating the Effectiveness of LPD as a Management Strategy for Mitigating Livestock Depredations"
- Peggy Duezabou, Sheep rancher, dog trainer and Akbash dog breeder, Silver City, MT.
- George Edwards, Livestock Loss Board, Helena, MT, Executive Secretary
- Becky Weed, Thirteen Mile Lamb and Wool Company, Belgrade, MT - Predator Friendly,
- Matt Barnes, Keystone Conservation, Field Director, Rangeland Stewardship - rangeland management specialist and wildlife biologist. Presenting Rangeland Stewardship For Livestock & Predator Co-existence.

Question & Answer period following presentations

Also attending for USDA APHIS Wildlife Services will be:

- Mark Tobin, PhD, Assistant Director, National Wildlife Research Center
- John Steuber, State Director/Supervisory Wildlife Biologist, USDA Wildlife Services-MT
- Kraig Glazier, District Supervisor/Supervisory Wildlife Biologist, USDA Wildlife Services-MT
- Elizabeth Miller, Wildlife Biologist, National Wildlife Research Center

Contact Information: Kathryn 406-579-7748, kathryn@emwh.org .

Program details here.

